

THE INTERNATIONAL DESIGN MAGAZINE — 74 Pages of Cutting-Edge Products ... Industrial Facility Whites Out ...
How Stuff Is Made ... Redesigning the Umbrella (It's About Time!) ... Good Magazine's Value ... Typecasting Call

December 2006 — $18.00 US / $25.00 CAN; www.id-mag.com

new + notable 2006

The Year's Sharpest Products

F+W PUBLICATIONS, INC. — $18.00 US / $25.00 CAN

Display until December 25, 2006

U.K. designer Jocelyn Warner's shiny KALEIDO wallcovering for Designtex becomes, through a combination of blurred edges and layering, like a holograph, morphing ever so slightly as the viewer's position changes; $200 per roll. www.dtex.com

The Hana Road collection from Perennials Outdoor Fabrics was designed by Wendy Tsuji and Linda Ueda to evoke some of the lesser-known traditions of Hawaiian culture. The PIIPII SHELLS pattern shown here was inspired by gathering mollusks from the seawall of a Molokai reef. Contact manufacturer for price. www.perennialsfabrics.com

Indian metal craftsmen hand-beat Habitat's embossed and debossed nickel-plated steel FLUIDO wall panels to give them their shimmery, molten quality. The wallcoverings come in black or silver and are available in three sizes: $94, $112, and $187. www.habitat.net

