living room

The walls in the living room are the same blue as when the Rogerses moved in (Brigade by PPG Paints). "I love the color," says Kelly. "Just because I'm a decorator doesn't mean I need to change something for the sake of changing it." To keep it and the antique Federal-style mirror above the mantel from feeling stodgy, Kelly added a cornflower blue coffee table from Kravet and a fire-engine red side table from overstock.com. The high-back Thibaut sofa is upholstered in an ivory Perennials fabric, and the striped fabric on the Hickory Chair wingback is from Duralee. "I love the old-school feel of this room, especially on Christmas morning," says Kelly. "The first thing we do is record the kids' reaction when they see Santa's presents under the tree."
